

COVERING
HISTORICAL
DEVELOPMENTS

Global Trade and International Law

by Stuart S. Malawer

Distinguished Service Professor of Law and International Trade at George Mason University

- Global trade issues in a legal context
- International law issues in a political context
- Current trade issues in a legal and political context
- Explore the role of the United States in creating a rules-based system for global transactions

About This Title

This compilation contains selected articles that Dr. Stuart Malawer has written on international law, foreign policy, international relations, and global trade since the late 1960s.

These articles present a multidisciplinary approach to current international, legal, and global trade issues that are aimed at both the professional and the policymaker. They highlight the development of a rules-based system as a means of governing global transactions, both corporate and governmental. There is a main focus on the role of the United States in the global economy.

The majority of the selections in this compilation appear in reverse chronological order. They are divided into two categories: global trade and foreign policy.

Global trade: The articles begin with an emphasis on foreign investment and economic development in the United States and the World Trade Organization, primarily addressing U.S. trade litigation against China. The articles progress to issues such as foreign investment, e-commerce, Russia and India in global trade, international legal practice, and the place of law in international business studies.

Foreign policy: The articles begin with the issue of cyber-warfare and then address various topics dealing with general issues of law and foreign policy. They conclude with the law of the seas, terrorism, the Middle East and Iranian conflicts, the European Communities, constitutional law aspects of the Vietnam War, and the use of force in treaty law.

“Professor Malawer’s treatment of a wide range of topics evidence the unique effect of globalization on all levels of government. He clearly understands inter-connected business and public policy problems within an interdisciplinary construct.”

-Peter Watson, former Chairman of the U.S. International Trade Commission, from the Preface

Global Trade and International Law

Including historical developments in the United States and global systems from the fall of the Berlin Wall and the Soviet Union to 9/11 and global terrorism!

Table of Contents

Introduction

Part I - International Law and Global Trade

- Chinese Investment and State Economic Development
- U.S. - China Trade Litigation (2001-2010)
- U.S. - China Trade Litigation in the WTO
- Litigation & Consultation in the WTO
- U.S. and the WTO - Litigation & Governance
- US WTO Stance on Russia
- Agricultural Biotechnology and WTO Litigation
- Global Mergers and National Security
- Global Governance & E-Commerce
- Trade Mission to India
- Transnational Business and Legal Studies
- Antidumping and International Trade Law
- Law and International Practice
- Law & International Business Studies

Trade Part II - International Law and Foreign Policy

- Cyber Warfare and Global Governance
- Reagan's Law & Foreign Policy
- Coerced Treaties and International Law

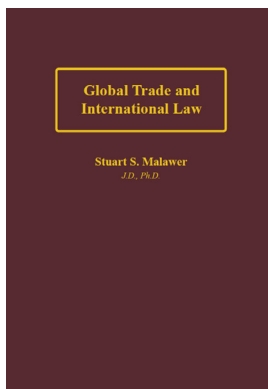

- Foreign Relations and National Security Law
- Terrorism and International Law
- Law of the Sea & U.S. Foreign Policy
- Treaty-Making Competence of the European Communities
- Relevance of International Law to Foreign Policy
- Social Science and International Law
- Vietnam War and the U.S. Constitution
- Imposed Treaties & International Law

Part III - Blogs on Global Trade and Law (2011-2012)

- Dumping
- Subsidies
- Export Controls
- Trade Sanctions
- Foreign Corruption
- Global Taxation
- Extraterritorial Regulation
- Global Corporate
- Responsibility
- Economic Development

About the Author

Dr. Stuart S. Malawer is the Distinguished Service Professor of Law and International Trade at George Mason University (School of Public Policy) and the former director of the Graduate International Transactions Program at George Mason. He earned degrees from the Cornell Law School (J.D.), the University of Pennsylvania (International Relations) (M.A., Ph.D.), the Hague Academy of International Law (Diploma, Research Centre); and did graduate studies at Oxford University (St. Peter's College) and the Harvard Law School. He is the author of six books including The WTO Law, Litigation & Policy (2007) and U.S. National Security Law (2009).

Global Trade and International Law

Item #: 1000044

ISBN: 978-0-8377-3890-1

1 Volume.....$85.00

Published: Buffalo; William S. Hein & Co., Inc.; 2013

order@wshein.com | 800-828-7571

William S. Hein & Co., Inc.
2350 N. Forest Rd. Getzville, NY 14068
Ph: 716-882-2600 • Toll Free: 800-828-7571 • International: +1 716 882 2600 • Fax: 716-883-8100 marketing@wshein.com • www.wshein.com