Historic Preservation Law: A Legal Research Guide
Volume 90
Carol A. Fichtelman

- Highlights preservation laws for indigenous sites, national monuments, historical buildings, and more
- Includes primary and secondary sources dating back to the mid-1800s
- A must-have for anyone interested in researching historic preservation in the United States

About This Title

Historic preservation, according to the Congressional Research Service, “is the practice of protecting and preserving sites, structures, objects, landscapes, and other cultural resources of historical significance.” Although state and local government programs, along with privately financed undertakings, support and bolster historic preservation, it is mainly the federal government’s role through enacting legislation, appropriating funds, and administering programs through various federal agencies that contributes to historic preservation policy.

This legal research guide undertakes to highlight federal historic preservation legislation from the early 1900s through the passage of the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966, the bulwark upon which historic preservation law stands today. Through it some of the historic preservation grant programs being funded include: Native American/tribal historic preservation, Japanese American internment camps, historical black colleges/universities, American battlefield protection programs, and tribal graves protection/repatriation.

The guide covers primary sources such as: federal statutes, regulations, agencies and case law; state laws, regulations and agencies; and international law along with the laws of other countries. Secondary sources include references to American Law Reports; legal encyclopedias; Congressional Research Service reports; organizations, blogs and websites; law school courses; databases; legal publications, law journals and books; and newspapers, magazines and journal articles.

About the Author

Carol A. Fichtelman is an attorney and legal editor/writer based in St. Louis. She received her B.A. in History at Ohio State University and her J.D. from the University of Toledo College of Law. Licensed to practice law in Michigan, Washington, D.C., Virginia, and Missouri, she worked as a Staff Attorney for Monroe County Legal Services in Michigan and for Legal Counsel for the Elderly, sponsored by AARP, in Washington, D.C. In addition, she served as an Elder Law Advocate for nursing home residents in Arlington, Virginia, before moving to St. Louis, Missouri where she became Managing Attorney and Director of the Pension Benefits Project run by the non-profit OWL, f.k.a. Older Women’s League. Her experience practicing law consisted of procuring benefits for and advising clients of their right to pension and government benefits, including: Black Lung, ERISA and pension benefits, Medicare and Medicaid, Social Security, and veterans’ benefits.
Table of Contents

ABOUT THE AUTHOR
DEDICATION
TABLE OF CONTENTS
I. INTRODUCTION AND OVERVIEW
II. PRIMARY RESOURCES
   A. Federal Statutes
      1. Preservation Programs
      2. Preservation Grants
      3. Executive Orders
      4. Pending Legislation
   B. Federal Regulations
      1. The National Historic Landmarks Program Regulations
      2. The National Register of Historic Places Regulations
      3. National Trust for Historic Preservation of the United States Regulations
      4. National Environmental Policy Act Regulations
      5. Archaeological Resources Protection Act Regulations
      6. Native American Graves Protection and Repatriation Act Regulations
      7. Internal Revenue Code Regulations
      8. National Natural Landmarks Program
   C. Federal Agencies
      1. U.S. Department of the Interior
      2. Advisory Council on Historic Preservation
      4. U.S. General Services Administration
      5. National Endowment for the Humanities
   D. Federal Case Law
      1. National Historic Preservation Cases
      2. Historic Tax Credit Cases
   E. State Laws, Regulations & Agencies
      1. State Historic Preservation Offices/Officers
      2. Preservation and State Historic Tax Credits
      3. Additional Laws Strengthening Historic Preservation Programs
      4. State National Historical Landmarks
      5. Local Preservation Ordinances
   F. Other Countries/International Law
III. SECONDARY SOURCES
   A. American Law Reports
   B. Legal Encyclopedias
   C. Wikipedia
   D. Congressional Research Service
   E. Organizations, Blogs & Websites
   F. Legal Blogs & Law Firm Sites
   G. Law School Courses/Databases
   H. Legal Publications, Law Journals, and Books
   I. Newspapers, Magazines, and Other Publications
   J. Westlaw KeyCite

*Standing order customers automatically receive this title

customerservice@wshein.com
800-828-7571