

Available From Hein ... The 11th title in Hein's Chinese Law Series!

Law on Product Quality Control and Product Liability in China

By Jiansheng Li

"The Chinese Law Series provides comprehensive, accurate and also very timely texts of Chinese legislation. It is strongly recommended that law students, scholars, legal practitioners and businessmen should not miss them when studying Chinese laws and doing business with China. They are an indispensable part of any modern law library."

—Lianze Ma, 7 Int'l. Trade & Bus. L. Ann. 499 (2002)

Anyone considering trade with the PRC and legal researchers and scholars in Chinese Law will find this book to be indispensable!

Law on Product Quality Control and Product Liability in China is the first English-language text that introduces and discusses the laws, regulations and cases in China concerning product quality control and product liability. A former instructor and lecturer-in-law at Peking University, Jiansheng Li provides a comprehensive introduction to the legal system of the Peoples Republic of China regarding product quality control and product liability, including the historical evolution and current status. Li analyzes major Chinese product liability cases, introducing relevant legislation and regulations and makes comparisons to American law to help readers understand and evaluate the PRC's product liability laws.

This work will be a great resource for the comparative study of torts and Chinese product liability, and the study of trade in the PRC in general. It will fascinate those pursuing trade relationships and studying consumer protectionism. Another important addition to your Chinese Law Collection. Order yours from Hein today!

1 volume$116.00

Item #11433

Pages: xii, 507 pp.

Published: Buffalo; William S. Hein & Co., Inc.; 2006

CHINESE LAW SERIES, VOLUME 11

