Associate Director for Library Services, Vanderbilt Law School

- A comprehensive list of abbreviations for nearly 36,000 terms
- More than 1,700 new and expanded abbreviations and acronym entries
- Includes abbreviations for domestic, foreign, and international agencies, organizations, periodicals, reporters, popular acts, and legal terms and phrases
- More than 5,600 new titles, names and terms abbreviated

About This Title

When the first edition of Bieber's Dictionary of Legal Abbreviations was published in 1979, it was the most concise and complete reference work on American legal abbreviations in existence.

The Seventh Edition provides a comprehensive list of abbreviations (for nearly 36,000 terms) used in legal encyclopedias, law dictionaries, law reporters, loose-leaf services, law reviews, legal treatises, legal reference books and citators. In addition to providing the meaning of abbreviations and acronyms, the reverse dictionary also enables the user to locate the abbreviations for titles, terms and names used in legal literature.

More About This Title

Prince's Dictionary of Legal Abbreviations contains an extensive range of acronyms, abbreviations, and symbols found in primary and secondary sources of American legal literature.

Providing this information in both forward and reverse order, this book assists users in identifying the meaning of abbreviations and acronyms (Part I) and in identifying abbreviations for titles, names, and terms (Part II).

Titles, names, and terms often have multiple abbreviations or acronyms. This book, without distinction, includes abbreviations established by well-recognized authorities such as The Bluebook: A Uniform System of Citation as well as abbreviations otherwise devised by authors in their efforts to shorten legal references and citations.

Because of a growing trend to omit periods, abbreviations may be listed in this book both with periods and elsewhere without, but which are otherwise the same and represent the same title, name, or term.

The Seventh Edition provides more than 1,700 new plus many expanded entries and includes abbreviations for:

- Domestic, foreign, and international agencies
- Organizations
- Periodicals
- Reporters
- Popular acts
- Legal terms and phrases
