PRESS RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Getzville, NY (August 13, 2020) - William S. Hein & Co., Inc., a 100-year-old legal publisher and its premier product, HeinOnline, announced the promotion of Chris Czopp as Director, Production & Publications, and the promotion of Noah Short to Senior Manager, Digital Production.

Chris Czopp was hired in October 2003 as an Inventory Control Clerk and held numerous roles over the next 15+ years. In July 2020 he was promoted to Director, Production & Publications, after his previous role as Senior Manager, Procurement, Editorial & Customer Service. He will be in charge of overseeing multiple departments, including those responsible for editorial work on print and online publications, and the assembly of content for producing HeinOnline databases and microfilm products. Czopp earned his B.A. from SUNY Fredonia in Criminal Justice & Psychology.

Noah Short was hired in January 2007 as a Cutting Clerk for print material and was promoted numerous times over the course of his career. In July 2020 he was promoted to Senior Manager, Digital Production, after his previous role as Manager, Imaging. He will be responsible for overseeing all scanning and indexing of content for HeinOnline databases, as well as the printing and binding of all traditional publishing products. Short is a graduate of Kenmore East High School.
